

Company Background

Lifeline is a wholly Irish owned private ambulance company, established in 1999 and currently headquartered in Leixlip, Kildare. Lifeline is adjacent to some of the primary arterial routes servicing Dublin and the rest of the country and from this location Lifeline is ideally positioned to service its ever expanding list of clients countrywide. Lifeline has grown strongly over the last two years and is now one of the largest private ambulance companies in the country with a large modern fleet of ambulances and medical cars and a full complement of trained staff (to First Responder and EMT (Paramedic) level. Lifeline Ambulance Service is the first and only Ambulance Service in Ireland to have achieved ISO accreditation.